Off the topic. A fantastic TedX talk by Acar Baltas got my attention with its righteousness. Link

Quick note:

Lately I wonder why banking interactive call center systems are asking and we are answering questions (like that bot asking "Bana ne yapmak istediginizi birkac cumle ile soyler misiniz?") one by one and analyzing every sentence to get what we'd like to do. In real life, we just sit opposite of a representative and explain what we want to do. Once these bot systems listen whole I want to say and do, then analyze and verify what my intension is, then that's something, then I'd say I'm saving time :)
